New Advertisements. New Advertisements. To the Electors of Vancouver Island District.

CENTLEMEN:—In response to the solicitation of a number of prominent gentlemen residing in the different settlements of your Electoral District to offer myself as a candidate to represent your interests in the House of Compons, I have, latter mature consideration, consented to do so, and have now the honor to solicit your suffrages at the approaching election. the honor to solicit your sutrages at the approximate election.

The measures that a member of the House of Commons may be called on to deal with being different from those of a member of the local legislature, being in their nature more national, it is doubtiess expected that I as a candidate should advert to at least some of them that more directly concern your interests. I will say, then, that having been one of the earliest advocates of a Canadian Transcontinental Railway, I shall, if elected, consider it to be my paramount duty in view of making it a grand national success, to insist that the Terminus shall be at Esquimalt, and that the line shall traverse the entire' outh-Eastern Coast of the Island from Johnson Straits NOTICE.

The Geological Survey now begun will doubtless be of great practical advantage to the country,—and anything that I may be able to do to insure the geological exploration of the vast mineral wealth of your district shall not escape my attention.

The Fisherics along our coasts promise to become very prolitable, and as the hominion tovernment has agreed to extend its protection and encouragement to that valuable and important branch of industry, I will endeavor to secure for your district its full share of any ald that may be appropriated for that purpose.

Act being able at this time to explain my views at greater length, I will take an early opportunity to meet you personally and collectively in the different settlements, when I may bring under your notices other time of a Provincial and Dominional character.

In concussion, Gentlemen, if you should do me the honer to return me to the House of Commons as your representative, I pledge myself to faithfully serve your interests to the bestion my ability.

I have the honer to be, Gentlemen,

ROBERT WALLACE.

To the Electors of Yale-Lytton and Kootenay District.

CENTLEMEN:—In compliance with the request of number of the electors of the above district, have much pleasure in offering myself as a candidate for the honor of representing you in the House of Common System throughout the Province and the appropriation of the necessary fands from the general revenue.

I am in havor of the appointment of County Corridings in this Province.

I am opposed to the Civil List Act in its present form and should it become matter for legislation at Ottawa 1 shall give my support to the Dominion Government so long as it continues fairly and honorably to carry out the terms of Union, especially with regard to the construction of the Canadian Assaing Kailway.

In cohelusion I promise that should you do me the honor of entrusting me with your interests, I shall at all times endeavor to prove myself worthy of your confidence.

I have the honor to be, Gentlemen your obedient servant.

tor, teamster, painter, car-ber-merchant, brick-maker, by the fire whi penter, lumber merchant, brick-maker, imeburner, or hardware-merchant in this city who does not desire, or who would not be pleased to have a law spread on our statute book that would enable one or all to register a lien on the property that their labor and materials had constructed. Now this is on the principle that every mechanic and supplier of material went to get their pay for their labor and their merchandize,-and if the party responsible in the first instance does not pay, then they wish to hold the property created by their labor and materials liable. The principle is not an entirely new one: for at common law every tailor has a lien on the cost that he has made or repaired, for this pay, and need not deliver it up till payment has been made. The same common law lien holds good with the shoemsker, the carriage-maker, the horse-shoer, the shipwright, the cabinet-maker, and with numbers of other trades, where the thing made or repaired remains in possession of the party who made or repaired it. This class of lien only ex-tends to the contractor, not to subcontractors, suppliers of materials, nor journeymen mechanics nor laborers. The law then that is demanded by a large class is one that will protect salcontractors, laborers, and suppliers of material, against the contractor, and protect even the contractor against the person with whom he contracted. It may appear at first to be a very easy matter to frame such a law as will afford scourity to all parties concerned in supplying labor or material to build or repair a house or a vessel; but there are many difficulties in the way of making such an act, if it be the intention to make such a act, if it be the intention to make such a measure not merely useful in find-ing courty for indebtedness, but also to secure prompt payment. The mere means to enable a contractor, his acchanics, laborers, or mer-chants to record a lien on the prothe pay. For instance, if a contractor undertakes a contract a thousand dollars less than its value, and consequently is unable to meet his liabilities, it certainly would be an outrage to hold the property of the contract of the contract of the contract of the city of Victoria, as Mayor for the ensuing year.

A. Rocks Robert would be an outrage to hold the pro-perty of the party with whom he con-tracted liable for the full amount of the debts incurred in its construction, over and beyond the contract price. Common fairness would say that the property should only be held liable for the amount of the contract, or such portion of the Hence, the creditors of the contractor not expect fall pay, but would have to accept a composition. Again, contract, would it be right to make the the wilson the wilson the property responsible for the Barre, without his consent? It debts incurred without his consent? It may be said that the contractor would give security. But suppose the contractor would give security. But suppose the contractor and securities both failed, ought the property still to be made liable for the amount of the debts incurred by the contractor in its construction? Again suppose the contractor fulfils bis contract and fails, owing other liabilities, ought one class of creditors to get full pay out of his assets, and another class get pert of their pay? Again a tenant may make improvements on property, and shall the laudlord's rights be jeopardized by a lien on his property to pay debts that he never contracted? That there is justice in the demand of contractors, mechanics, laborers, etc., to have their pay secured by a lien, is evident; but it is very apparent from the points that we have raised, that a Mechanics' Lien Law is somewhat difficult to frame, and do no injustice to third parties. Another a point that would have to be provided in a lien law, would be a summary process. may be said that the contractor would lien law, would be a summary process to raise the money out of the property on which the lien had been recorded. In the present state of our equity practice and common law procedure, it would put creditors to endless trouble and delay before they would get their money. The new machinery to get prompt payment no doubt could be made, but it would require great care in the making. Now in the face of all the difficulties in the way of making a good lien law, we be-lieve it can be done,—and ought to be done. A good Lien Law, like the Homestead Law, would be a public Homestead Law, would be a public benefit,—possibly not so great a benefit as many may imagine, still it would be a step in the right direction. It would enable some men to contract and others to build who without such a law would be deprived of credit. But at the same time unless its provisions were very carefully framed to protect prior liens, and the rights of third parties, the tendency of a stringent lien law might be to throw the construction and repair of buildings and vessels into the hands of a few weelthy contractors, and consequent. few wealthy contractors, and consequently one of the objects of its enactment—
to help contractors without capital—might fail.

The residents is the First Ward generally lived in hotels or furnished rooms, except where many poor families were congregated.

THE NORTH SIDE.

On the North Side 1,300 acres were burned over out of the 2,500 acres in that division leaving intact a small portion of Kensie st. mear the river, and several houses north of Division and west of Orchard streets, includ-ing some of the better settled districts up

The total number of buildings destroyed was 10,000, including over 600 stores and 100 manufacturing establishments. About 70,000 persons were deprived of homes, and are so-journing on the west side or have left the city. Cheote, who announced that all anti-Tammany organizations had combined, on candidates by untried action would surely elect a good number of them. The Hon. S. J. Dillen and Wm. M. Evarus followed in eloquent terms, calling on all citizens to give up all business on election day, and make a united effort to rid the city of a gang of robiers.

At the meeting of the Board of Supervisors to-day, Mayor field submitted a resolution, which was adopted denoking election districts, and designating certain Tammany officials to receive election returns. This action was thought to be in the interest of Tammany. There are no accounts of Ingersoll.

13,500 BUILDINGS DESTROYED. It appears, then, that out of the 60,000 buildings in Chicago, only about 13,500 have been destroyed; and that while 92,000 persons have been driven from their bomes, over 145,000 have not been afflicted in that way.
